OUR NEXT CHAPTER OF PIRKEI AVOT
WITH RABBI MERRILL SHAPIRO

Once again, I'm afraid that I have a bit of an emergency and cannot be with you this evening, Tuesday, May 7th at 7 pm for our regular session studying Pirkei Avot.

I apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused.

I look forward to seeing everyone next week, Tuesday, May 14th (the secular date for the anniversary of the establishment of the modern State of Israel (see below). The Hebrew date for Yom Ha'atzmaut is 5 Iyar.

Looking forward to "seeing you" on Tuesday evening!

Be well,
Merrill

VERY CUTE!BLESS YOU

The Applebaums were teaching their five year old son Moishe how to make brachot, blessings, before he ate. He was having some trouble so his mother told him that if he can't remember what to say, he can just say, "Thank you, Hashem, for this delicious food."

One evening, however, Moishie's mother noticed that he thanked Hashem for the birds, the trees, each of his friends, and asked God to watch over his family and help. Moishie's mother thought it was so cute and heartfelt.

But after Moishie took a spoonful of soup, he gasped, then dropped his spoon into the bowl. "I should have said a longer prayer," he said. "My food is still too hot."

BLOOD FROM A STONE

One Sunday morning, Rabbi Rabbinovitz goes to visit one of his congregants, Sam Rosenstein.

"Shalom, Sam. I'll come straight to the point. I've come here because our synagogue needs your help. You've been a member for over 20 years and you're always quick to pay your membership fees in full. But as you are aware, we are in a financial crisis so I've come here to ask you for a little extra for the new building fund."

"How much are you looking to get from me - how big is little?" asks Sam.

"I'll be honest. $30,000 would be a tremendous help to us," replies the Rabbi."

Sam responds, "Rabbi, my daughter Rebecca is soon getting married and she has asked me for $250,000 to help her buy that house in the suburbs. And my son David is just starting college and tuition alone is $25,000 a year there. My wife Sarah needs dental surgery which is $20,000 for the doctors' fees and in-patient facilities. And my mother is in a nursing home, they are asking for $35,000 a year."

"I didn't know that you had so many financial obligations Sam," says Rabbi Rabinovitz.

"I do," replies Sam. "And Rabbi if I can say 'no' to them, I can say 'no' to you."

BLOWING IN THE WIND

It was a terrible night, blowing cold and rain in a most frightful manner. The streets were deserted, and the local baker was just about to close up shop when a little man named Moishe slipped through the door. He carried an umbrella, blown inside out, and he was bundled in a thick coat. But even so, he still looked wet and bedraggled.

As he unwound his scarf, he said to the baker, "May I have two bagels to go, please?"

The baker said in astonishment, "Two bagels? Nothing more?"

"That's right," answered the little man. "One for me and one for Miriam."

"Miriam is your wife?" asked the baker.

"What do you think?" snapped the little man. "My mother would never send me out on a night like this! Especially without an extra sweater!"
