A Message From Rabbi Kane

In the old country, the story is told of two villages and two horse races.

In the first village, one breed of horses were all white with a rough diamond shaped brown spot above it's eyes and the second breed were all white with a rough circle spot in the same place. The fastest horse from each breed was selected every spring for a race during the Lag B'Omer Picnic.

In the village, in the weeks before the race, fans of each breed explained to anyone who would listen what was wrong with the opposing horse; it's parentage, its pasture, its trainer, even commenting negatively about the people in the community in favor of the opposite breed.

On the night before the race, each group sets up its own camp to roast meat and talk about how great they and their horse trainers are.

On the day of the big race, inevitably, one horse won by a nose, after which its fans cheered and then invited the opposite fans to come enjoy babka and mead from a special tent in their camp, where the winning fans serve the losing fans. The losing fans also bring drink and food to share. The trainer of the losing horse toasts the trainer of the winning horse and the trainer of the winning horse toasts the trainer of the losing horse, always finishing with a thought like, " we will have to work harder to beat an excellent horse like yours next year."

In the second village the race and the breeds are the same, but the babka and mead are served to each group of fans in separate tents, and the toasts are variously about the defects of the opposite horses and fans.

One year, the mayor of the first village happened to be in the second village on Race day. After the race, he was bewildered by the separate tents. Eventually, he found the mayor of the second village and explained the differences in their customs. The mayor of second village asked why the first village had their post-race party together.

"Well," said the visiting mayor, "we realized that being in different camps is one thing, but if we don't find a way to be together, we won't have much of a village. "

KABBALAH KORNER

Sharing wisdom from a 3,000 year old mystical tradition January, 2025 Tevet—Shevat, 5785

As we move into the beginning of a new Gregorian calendar year, I thought I would share some insight into the Kabbalistic calendar that you might find interesting.....

The Gregorian (traditional) calendar determines the month and year based on solar cycles, whereas the Kabbalistic Calendar determines the month according to lunar cycles and the year by the solar cycles. In a Kabbalistic Calendar, a month always starts on or near a new moon and has either 29 or 30 days (a lunar cycle is about 29 1/2 days).

Certain days are imbued with the energy of abundance, making them a preferable time to begin something new. These days are an optimal time to plant a seed for new ventures, getting married, buying a home, scheduling important medical procedures and so on. The first day of each month, the New Moon, is a particularly positive day, as it contains the seed of the entire month. Just as positive days have more energy, negative days have less. Seeds planted on negative days have a harder time bearing fruit. If we have an important task to accomplish and a positive day is not an option, a neutral day is preferable over a negative day.

The Sefer Yetzirah (Book of Formation), written by Abraham the Patriarch some 3800 years ago, states that the Hebrew letters are the DNA of the universe. They are the physical representation of the divine energy intelligence that created everything, from the planets to the galaxies. Every month is represented by a sign of the zodiac, and by a planet, both created by a Hebrew letter. The Book of Formation explains that by meditating daily on the Hebrew letters specific to the month, you can influence how your month plays out.

The Ana Boko'ach is an ancient kabbalistic prayer built around a sequence of 42 letters that are encoded within the first 42 letters of the Book of Genesis. Each line of the prayer corresponds to the energy of a particular month, and a specific day of the week. By meditating on the Ana Boko'ach daily, you enrich your life with pure spiritual Light and positive energy.

Every Friday at sundown begins the time known as Shabbat, and it concludes with the setting of the sun on Saturday evening. Kabbalists explain that Shabbat is the only day of the week when the spiritual and physical worlds are united. The Light flows throughout the entire day and is available for you to receive from it as much as you want. Shabbat allows you access to a higher level of your soul than you can connect to during the other six days of the week. This window in time also gives you the opportunity to change your personal destiny at the seed level for the coming week.

Holidays are not about tradition. They are one of the most powerful technologies available to you for improving your life. Holidays are cosmic windows in time that allow you to connect to different frequencies of spiritual energy. These forces activate and enhance your ability to remove certain types of negativity and chaos, thereby increasing your personal fulfillment. Each holiday provides its own distinct channel to the Light.

Congregation B'nai Torah Religious School Report

By Helen Farb

Welcome to a new year of learning fun. We will miss the Banfi's who moved to Hungary and wish them much happiness.

We will continue at Beth-El for the rest of the school year. The school board met, and it was decided this was the best idea for the children. Congregation B'nai Torah will be hosting two major fun events. We will be having a joint Purim Festival and a Passover Seder.

In December at Shalom School the students were introduced to the holiday of Hanukkah and its history as well as the traditions. Their snack was an edible menorah.

I am so proud of all our new service leaders who are now leading parts of the service. Please come and honor and support them. We will also continue to have Kid and Tot Shabbats. Our next one was changed to Friday, January 10 at 6:00 pm.

Shalom School will resume on Sunday, January 12th, from 9:00-12:00 at Temple Beth-El.

Wishing everyone health and happiness.

Miss Helen

Sisterhood in the News

Let's say goodbye to 2024 and a big hello to 2025. The best way to finish out the year is showing your support and join Congregation B'nai Torah Sisterhood. Give to your Sisterhood. We need members and donations. We give back to Congregation B'nai Torah in many ways, we are continually raising money for our own congregants. The dues stay in our congregation to benefit our members. All it takes is a single payment of $36.00 annually. There are several ways to join; submit your payment either online at mybnaitorah.org website, mail it, or drop it off at the CBT office from 9:00am-1:00pm Monday-Friday.

Our Sisterhood had a very nice time at our 2nd annual Hanukkah party. Rabbi gave some Hanukkah facts, and we ate delicious desserts and appetizers and drank chocolate martinis. Everyone enjoyed the gift exchange, and we look forward to next year's festivities as well.

Sisterhood had a large table with many items for sale at the Hard Rock Community Hanukkah Party. Items sold will make room for more exciting items that will be coming in soon. We have many items for sale, baby gifts, B'nai Mitzvahs, items for remembrance, and many Judaic items to decorate your home with. Our gift shop is open Sunday-Friday by appointment. Call Kay at the synagogue office or Barbara Kusnick to schedule an appointment.

We had close to 100 people at the Hanukkah dinner on Friday 12/27. Thank you Lea & the itchen Angels!

Look what's coming up.....

- Thursday January 16th, Game Day at CBT, bring your favorite game and we will supply the snacks and door prizes.

SISTERHOOD HANUKKAH PARTY

MEN'S CLUB®

Men's Club Upcoming events:

Happy Hanukkah from the Men's Club

Men's Club has begun a new series, beginning in this month's Torah Times, called Mensch of the Month. Thank you to Jerry Leibman for inspiring the idea, and to Ray Leonard for penning the first article. Look for more articles in the upcoming months.

Men's Club has been asked to help upkeep the synagogue grounds such as yardwork, tree trimming, mulching and other more. We'll plan a date in the first part of 2025, it would be a mitzvah to have a strong turnout.

January 8, 7:30pm, at the Synagogue, will be the inaugural session of the Men's Club-Hearing Men's Voices (HMV) program. HMV is a unique program that engages Jewish men in Jewish life, enabling deeper connections and better relationships among our members. It's a facilitated session which encourages men to talk and engage in rich and meaningful dialogues about common issues. The title of this first session is called 'Meet My Father'. It's a free event, and snacks will be served. Please RSVP to Mark at cbtobmensclub@gmail.com or call/text 314-604-5618

Men's Club will again be sponsoring Superbowl Squares, where you can win money and support the Congregation all at the same time! Check your email!

The Annual "World Wide Wrap", a opportunity to wrap and learn about the mitzvot of Tefillin, will again be held on Sunday, Feb 9, at 10 am. It's a great opportunity to 'tie one on'! A BLT (Bagels, Lox, and Tefillin) breakfast will be served.

Our congregant, Ray Leonard, who is a retired executive in the Oil industry, will be leading a "Lunch and Learn" discussion on the subject of "Climate Change from an Oil Man's Perspective" on February 23, at noon at CBT.

We're planning even more, such as 'Boys Night Out', helping with the religious school's Purim Carnival, Men's Club/Sisterhood Shabbat, a Passover fundraiser, Yellow Candles for Yom Hashoah, and more.

You can always check the Men's Club page on the CBT website: <https://mybnaitorah.org/mens-club/>

As always, let me know if you have a great idea for the Men's Club? Contact me: 314-604-5618 cbtobmensclub@gmail.com

MENSCH OF THE MONTH

By our Congregant Ray Leonard

Our Rabbi Kane has led an interesting and varied life. His intellect and personality have led him to experiences that have enabled him to be the spiritual guide and friend that we all cherish.

He grew up in a small town in the Hudson Valley as the youngest of six children, spread in age by 17 years. He had a hard-working, distant father and as the youngest, was naturally close to a kind, caring and religious mother. You will not be surprised that he had an active imagination, loving monster movies and comic books, had a sweet tooth (malted milk balls and chocolate chip cookies) but also was deeply involved in synagogue, leading services as a teenager.

He wished to become a rabbi, then an actor, both professions strongly discouraged by his father. In protest, he refused to apply for college, until his mother persuaded him. He applied to Carnegie Mellon, on advice of a friend and as National Merit semifinalist, of course, he was accepted. He had no interest in his Chemical Engineering studies, however, and after two semesters of mediocre grades, took time off to work at Disney in Orlando, living with his sister. He returned and completed a degree, but his real effort was in student activities, fund raising, disc jockey and earning the Outstanding Student Citizen Award at Graduation. He did learn how to solve problems from his Analysis Systems and Evaluation Courses (ASE) that has helped him for the rest of his life.

Despite having a Chemical Engineering degree, he had no immediate prospects of interest in that subject and returned to Disney where he moved up the ranks as they opened EPCOT Center. However, his father's health was failing and with it the family ladder company business. So, he left Disney and moved back to New York and with his brother took over the company, cut staff in half and quadrupled revenue. Meanwhile his father recovered his health and came back. Unfortunately, it was too many cooks in the proverbial kitchen, so the brothers left.

Disney of course, wanted our Rabbi back, and he returned to help open Disney MGM Studios. While working there, however, he saw the difficulties aged and visitors with disabilities had getting around and started his own company "Friends of Family" which provided wheelchair services and guides to all the theme parks in Orlando. It was so successful that it became Disney's recommended service. The Rabbi's next adventure was with a restaurant "The Outback". By watching Crocodile Dundee repeatedly, he learned to "speak Australian" and became the ambassador of the restaurant, telling tales of the outback.

While working with Outback, he became involved as cantor in the SW Orlando Jewish Congregation. At this point that he decided to dedicate his considerable talents to serving our faith and people. He went to Rabbinic School for four years. After two years as Rabbi in Deltona, a delegation from Ormond Beach forming Congregation B'nai Torah tempted him to lead our congregation, where with his lovely wife Valerie, we have experienced the joy of Judaism these last 27 years.

Current events involving the state of Israel deeply concern Rabbi Kane. He recalls Ariel Sharon's advice, "better a bad peace than a good war." Israel has an extreme fringe that wants to make it a theocracy rather than the beacon of democracy and tolerance that we all look to. Secular Israel needs to come back.

He suggests that religions appear to take about 1500 years to work out their aggressions. For Judaism, this happened by around 400 CD. (the Maccabees had been pretty vicious..) Christianity had their civil wars in the reformation (1500's and 1600's) and the Muslims are about 1500 years after Mohammed.

Hopefully, their violent branches will wither soon.

We need volunteers for the Membership and Visiting Committees.

Please consider volunteering a couple of hours a week or more to visit congregants at nursing homes, the hospital, or their homes. We also need volunteers for the Lunch Buddy
Program to take older congregants out for coffee or lunch. We also need volunteers to write welcome cards for new members, to call potential members, to call members who are sick, and to write get-well cards.

If interested, please call Kay at the CBT Office at (386)672-1174.

Join us for an engaging session with the author of The Sons of Srol, Ray Leonard, as he shares the fascinating story of the Abramajtys family. Tracing their roots in Eastern Europe, the book explores how a region encompassing parts of Lithuania, Poland, Ukraine, and Belarus became home to 80% of Europe's Jews by the 1700s. Following the family's journey through emigration, World Wars, and the Nazi occupation, the author will reveal the lessons learned from their survival and resilience in the face of adversity. Don't miss this opportunity to dive into a powerful tale of history, struggle, and the Jewish experience.
